

Fall 2010 (11.2) Teaching the Bible in the congregation

Editorial	Mary H. Schertz
Teaching the Bible through preaching	Rudy Baergen
Wrestling with the Bible: A congregational biography	Joetta Handrich Schlabach
Persevering in a priority	Ron Kennel
Scholars serving the congregation	Douglas B. Miller
Rereading the Bible with Jesus in the center	Jennifer Davis Sensenig
The Book	Jean Janzen
The burning bush or the plastic mulberry?	Jack Dueck
How comedy changed my view of the Bible	Ted Swartz
Teaching the death and resurrection of Jesus to children	Carrie Martens
Reading the Bible with youth	Rachel Miller Jacobs
Men and women of the Bible as spiritual companions	Gareth Brandt
The text has something to tell us! Bible teaching in the Meserete Kristos Church, Ethiopia an interview with Kelbessa Muleta Demena	Mary H. Schertz
Resources on teaching the Bible in the congregation	Jewel Gingerich Longenecker

Spring 2010 (11.1) Unity and diversity

Editorial	Dan Epp-Tiessen
The dream: One multiethnic church; A sermon on Colossians 1:21–27	Steve Heinrichs
“That they may all be one”: Diversity and unity within the ministry of Jesus	Dorothy Jean Weaver
The one and the many, the part and the all: Unity and diversity in the Messiah’s body politic	Gordon Zerbe
Signposts on the journey toward an antiracist, multicultural church	Iris de Leon–Hartshorn
Toward becoming a multicultural church	Samson Lo
Thelma Meade: “I know where I go”; An Aboriginal elder’s experience with the church	Deborah Froese
Diversity: Blessing, curse, or call to communion? A reflection on the Mennonite World Conference experience	Larry Miller
Unity and diversity in the canon: Implications for the church	Loren L. Johns
Sanctuary: Where we maintain the unity of the Spirit	Nancy Kauffmann

Fall 2009 (10.2) Testimony

Editorial	Steven Schweitzer
Who’ll be witness for my lord? Testimony in the Old Testament	W. Derek Suderman
“I saw the light”: The significance of the Apostle Paul’s conversion testimony	Tim Kuepfer
Let the words of my mouth	Suella Gerber
Testimony of silence	Rosanna Eller McFadden
Testimony in the life of the congregation	April Yamasaki
The artful practice of testimony	Tara Hornbacker
The gift of speech: Testimony and the formation of pastoral identity	Joel Miller
A Kenyan testimony to God’s faithfulness	Rebecca Osiro
“Couldn’t keep it to myself”: Testimony in the black church tradition	Regina Shands Stoltzfus
Are we ready for the return of testimony?	Ryan Siemens
soaking wet	Samantha E. Lioi
We believe; help our unbelief!	Robert J. Suderman
How can we sing those songs? Testimony in light of findings from the 2006 Mennonite Church USA member profile	Conrad L. Kanagy
Testimony in the Church of the Brethren	Frank Ramirez
Testimony in Anabaptist-Mennonite theology and practice	Lois Y. Barrett
Testimony as sharing hope: A sermon on Matthew 8:5-13; 1 Peter 2:11; 3:13-17a	Alan Kreider
A letter to readers of Vision	Arlo Frech

Spring 2009 (10.1) Preaching

Editorial	Dan Epp-Tiessen
The preached sermon as a happening of the gospel	Allan Rudy-Froese
Preaching as God’s event	Paul Scott Wilson
Can I get a witness?	Thomas G. Long

Tapping the potential of biblical preaching	Ryan Ahlgrim
The sermon as fulcrum: The role of preaching in worship	June Alliman Yoder
Igniting imaginations with narrative preaching	Renee Sauder
Take, bless, break: A sermon on Luke 9:10–17	Michele Rizoli
Navigating with a new map: Preaching for youth and young adults	Michele Hershberger
Christmas is good news, isn't it? A sermon	Dan Epp-Tiessen
Preaching and pastoral care	John H. Neufeld
"Not hearers only": Preaching invitationally	Dennis R. Edwards
Keeping preaching fresh over the long haul	Don Rempel Boschman

Fall 2008 (9.2) Sexuality

Editorial	Mary H. Schertz
Renarrating the gospel of sex: A sermon on 2 Corinthians 5:16–21	David W. Boshart
Biblical perspectives on sexuality	Steve Schweitzer
Cohabitation: What is at stake?	Sara Wenger Shenk
Sexuality in the wedding	Gary Harder and Lydia Neufeld Harder
Becoming adult, being sexual: Sexuality on the long road to adulthood	Andy Brubacher Kaethler
Let's talk about sex: What the church owes our youth	Cyneatha Millsaps
After sexual violence: What happens next in the community of grace?	Carol Penner
Singleness and sexuality	Pauline Steinmann
Opening safe space	Sarah MacDonald
Marriage is words—and affectionate practices: Lessons from Congo on enhancing sex in marriage	Sidonie Swana Tangiza Tenda (Falanga)
The lamp of the body: A sermon on Internet pornography	Andrew Kreider

Spring 2008 (9.1) Creation care

Editorial	Dan Epp-Tiessen
The heavens declare: A sermon on Psalm 19:1-6	H. Henry Janzen
For this world: A prayer	Walter Rauschenbusch
Creation care and salvation	Steven Bouma-Prediger
Roots, branches, and seeds: Exploring Western society's exploitative tendencies	Joanne M. Moyer
Creation speaks: An Aboriginal Christian's perspectives	Adrian Jacobs
The time of our lives	David Waltner-Toews
The way the world is meant to be: An interpretation of Genesis 1:26-29	Wilma Ann Bailey
My theatre of pleasure and adoration	Jürgen Schönwetter
In my garden	Yorifumi Yaguchi
Will riding my bicycle bring world peace? Reflections on creation care and peacemaking	Ray Vander Zaag
Preaching the good news with our mouths full	Cathleen Hockman-Wert
A spirituality of creation care	Susan Classen
Mennonite Creation Care Network

Fall 2007 (8.2) Suffering

Editorial	Gayle Gerber Koontz
How can I keep from singing?	Esther Epp-Tiessen
Questions, answers, stories: Speaking of God and suffering	Peter Dula
Making peace with a God who doesn't end suffering	Carolyn Schrock-Shenk
Reconciling suffering and joy	Willy Mushagalusa
God's suffering? A challenge for biblicists	Gordon Matties
Traversing mountains: Learning about suffering from my African American friends	Mary Thiessen Nation
Renewing the Passion: Freeing the cross for redemption	Nekeisha Alexis-Baker
Of suffering, forgiveness, and closure: Reflections on Russian Mennonite Experience	Harry Loewen
Rightly remembering a martyr heritage	James C. Juhnke
Communities of grace, joy, and peace? When the church causes suffering	Dorothy Nickel Friesen
Pastoral care and living hope	Samuel Lopez
Walking with men to heal their buried pain	Brice Balmer
The Beatitude pastor	Duane Beck

The fox and the hen: A sermon on Luke 13:31–35	Leonard Beechy
When Jesus learned his friend had died (hymn text)	Adam Tice
When Job the great was brought to tears (hymn text)	Adam Tice
Spring 2007 (8.1) Reconciling
Editorial	Irma Fast Dueck
United in Christ: A sermon on John 17	Rudy Baergen
Being in communion: Unity amid conflict in the church	Betty Pries
Worship and reconciliation	Marva J. Dawn
God’s reconciliation work: A spiritual exercise for preachers	Allan Rudy-Froese
Matthew 18 revisited	Tim Kuepfer
The cookie poem	Jeff Gundy
Forgiveness	Joseph Liechty
Through conflict to authentic community: Reconciliation in the congregation	Nan Cressman
Considering consensus: Is agreement possible?	Kerry Strayer
Interfaith friendship as an act of reconciliation	Susan Kennel Harrison
Church apologies and the politics of reconciliation	Jeremy M. Bergen
Fall 2006 (7.2) Prayer
Editorial	Mary H. Schertz
Facets of prayer in a pastorate	Roy Hange
Jesus and believers at prayer	Willard M. Swartley
Treasure in plain sight: Prayer in John Calvin’s theology	Barry Murr
Holy ground, shaky ground, common ground: Public prayer in rhetorical perspective	Juanita Weaver
God’s unconditional love, Billy Joel, and the healing power of centering prayer	Jay Freel Landry
Too deep for words: Learning about prayer from people with developmental disabilities	Paula Snyder Belousek
Laments—Misunderstood, truncated, exiled, silenced	Ron Guengerich
Prayer and action: Personal reflections	Duane Shank
From generation to generation: A conversation about prayer	Lois Schertz and Don Yost
The obscure night of prayer	Dan Schrock
On every side I find thy hand: A sermon on Matthew 7:7-11	Mary H. Schertz
Seven collects	Lois H. Siemens
Spring 2006 (7.1) Salvation
Editorial	Karl Koop
Are you saved? Paul and salvation	Tom Yoder Neufeld
The witness of women: Dying to sin and rising to life	Lydia Neufeld Harder
Salvation: Contrasting concepts and church conflict	Thomas Finger
Mennonite perspectives on atonement: A review article	Rachel Reesor-Taylor
Proclaiming salvation: A pastor’s perspective	Claire Ewert Fisher
How we see salvation: What difference does it make? A sermon	April Yamasaki
Singing our salvation	Marilyn Houser Hamm
Salvation in Hispanic Protestant perspective	Jose Ortiz
Saving encounters	Jim Loepp Thiessen
Is Jesus the only way to God?	Wilbert R. Shenk
Fall 2005 (6.2) Worship
Editorial	John D. Rempel
Living by the sign of the Sabbath	Kevin R. Drudge
In the ordinary, glimpses of the extraordinary	Pam Driedger
Receiving before responding	Scott Brubaker-Zehr
What shall we sing?	Rebecca Slough
How do we know when it’s good worship?	Marlene Kropf
Affectionate memories of traditional and transitional worship in Pennsylvania	John L. Ruth
Distilled as new wine: Worship in a congregation of refugees and immigrants	Betty Kennedy de Puricelli
Worship on the northwestern frontier	Rod Stafford
Maintaining unity in faith: Toward a theological link between baptism, foot washing, and the Lord’s Supper	Pieter Post

Creating a daily office for Mennonites
 Facing the darkness: A sermon on worship amid tragedy
 On Mennonite preaching: A review article

Eleanor Kreider
 Eugene Harder
 Allan Rudy-Froese

Spring 2005 (6.1) Scripture

Editorial
 Practicing scriptural authority
 Scripture and tradition: A dilemma for Protestants
 Canon and canonical scripture interpretation
 Making the music of scripture
 Planning worship in the shape of scripture
 What is the Bible's authority in preaching?
 It's all Greek (and Hebrew) to me
 Using scripture in pastoral care
 Respecting scripture's varied voices: How we read a Bible with different views of truth
 Three rooms: God's Story and my story
 The word becomes flesh: A sermon on Nehemiah 8:1-12 and Psalm 119:10-16

Dan Epp-Tiessen
 Gerald Gerbrandt
 Karl Koop
 Waldemar Janzen
 Mary E. Klassen
 Lois H. Siemens
 June Alliman Yoder
 Mary H. Schertz
 Menno Epp
 Dan Nighswander
 Jean Janzen
 Ruth Preston Schilk

Fall 2004 (5.2) Power and leadership

Editorial
 Gelassenheit and power: Some historical reflections
 From bishops to bureaucracy: Observations on the migration of authority
 Mennonites and power: Returning to a thwarted conversation
 Mother, may I? A Pastors Week sermon
 The paradox of pastoral power
 A letter to readers of Vision
 Power, authority, and worship leadership
 Power and congregational discernment
 The wisdom of knowing nothing: Pauline perspectives on leadership, ministry, and power
 Marshall
 Where two or three are gathered: Power in Christian community
 Resurrection: The nonviolent politics of God

Mary H. Schertz
 C. Arnold Snyder
 Steven M. Nolt
 Brenda Hostetler Meyer
 Regina Shands Stoltzfus
 Joseph J. Kotva Jr.
 Arlo Frech
 Rebecca Slough
 Sally Weaver Glick
 Christopher D.
 Irma Fast Dueck
 Ray Gingerich

Spring 2004 (5.1) End of life

Editorial
 The redemption of our bodies: A Pauline primer on resurrection
 After a death: Theology and Christian funeral practices
 Walking on holy ground: A pastor's theology of funerals
 I will tell you a mystery": A funeral sermon
 Praise and lament in the face of death
 Jesus and the end of life in the synoptic Gospels
 The winding road of grief: A funeral sermon
 Pastoral reflections on dying well
 Final benedictions
 A sure thing: Death and eternal life in the Gospel of John Love stories: A funeral meditation on 1 John 3:11, 16-24
 When my father died (poem)
 On being stuck with our parents: Learning to die in Christ
 Lost and found together: A funeral sermon
 Children's books that deal with the end of life: An annotated bibliography

Dan Epp-Tiessen
 Dorothy Jean Weaver
 Gayle Gerber Koontz
 Klaudia Smucker
 Paul Dyck
 Dan Epp-Tiessen
 Gary Yamasaki
 Norm Dyck
 Dorothy Nickel Friesen
 Rudy Baergen
 Jo-Ann A. Brant
 Wanda Roth Amstutz
 Rachel Miller Jacobs
 Harry Huebner
 Brent Kipfer
 Kathryn Meyer Reimer

Fall 2003 (4.2) Catechesis

Editorial
 What madness possessed you? Catechesis for new allegiance
 A towel and water: Rethinking my catechism
 The road to the future runs through the past: Reviving an ancient faith journey
 "What does this mean?" Biblical reflections on catechesis
 Catechisms in the Mennonite tradition

Arthur Paul Boers
 J. Nelson Kraybill
 Matthew Tschetter
 Robert E. Webber
 Ben C. Ollenburger
 Karl Koop

Why give them stones? Catechesis as imaginative apologetics	A. James Reimer
How do we invite youth to baptism? And when?	Mary Lehman Yoder
What's stopping you? Philip and the Ethiopian eunuch (Acts 8:25–39)	Jim Loepp Thiessen
A persistent search: Calling new believers to faithfulness	Dale Shenk
Faith Friends: A catechism story	Gwen Gustafson-Zook
Let's have a party! A baptismal sermon, with some reflections	Gareth Brandt
Studying the faith with Cuban church leaders	Titus Guenther
Spiritual Exercises for strengthening faith	Ruth Boehm
Spring 2003 (4.1) Beginning of life
Editorial	Dan Epp-Tiessen
Does God care that we make babies?	Dan Epp-Tiessen
Bringing infertility out of the shadows	Keith Graber Miller
Family by adoption	Brenda Srof
Our infertility journey	Joan and Phil
When miscarriage steals pregnancy's promise	Melissa Miller
A service to mark a miscarriage	Melissa Miller
Hannah: Her story	Rachel Miller Jacobs
Reflections on prenatal diagnostic testing	Sherry Wenger
Exploring promise and problems in embryonic stem cell research	George B. Stoltzfus
Bioethics and the church: Technology, martyrdom, and the moral significance of the ordinary	Chris K. Huebner
A life too brief: A memorial meditation for Adam Daniel Shantz	Gary Harder
Fall 2002 (3.2) Confession
Editorial	Mary H. Schertz
Lessons from history on the uses of Mennonite confessions of faith	Karl Koop
Guiding thoughts for the study of the faith: Reflections from Guatemalan Mennonites	Mario Higueros
On racism, Mennonite politics, and liberation (Words we don't like to hear)	Malinda E. Berry
Confession: The way of transformation	Marcus Smucker
The two edges of confession	Alan Kreider
Transforming the difficult sinner	Rachel Miller Jacobs
For those who want to change the world	Ann Hostetler
The place of confession in restorative justice	Janet P. Schmidt
Paying for our sins: What Mennonites should confess in the wake of 9-11-01	Melanie Zuercher
Confessing faith, confronting sin	Jacob W. Elias
Confession: Restoring trust, repairing the breach	Muriel Bechtel
The place of absolution in the service of the Lord's day	Charles Hohenstein and David Tripp
Smoked out into confession's healing lightness	Michael A. King
Spring 2002 (3.1) Hospitality
Editorial	Gordon Zerbe
Biblical theology of hospitality	Waldemar Janzen
The welcome year of the Lord	Dorothy Jean Weaver
Competing visions: Can we keep Isaiah and Ezra in the same Bible, and you and me in the same church?	Gary Harder
Hospitality, a practice and a way of life	Christine D. Pohl
Reflections on hospitality and the missional church	Robert J. Suderman
Church planting strategies and Anabaptist values: A British perspective	Stuart Murray
Dare to become a global church	Gilberto Flores
Welcoming the Muslims in our midst	Brice Balmer
The worship leader as host	Ruth Boehm
When Love sits down to the banquet	Paul Keim
Resources for a communion service of hospitality	Wild Goose Worship Group
"Love bade me welcome"	Paul Dyck
Fall 2001 (2.2) Transformation
Editorial	Daniel S. Schipani
The missio Dei and the transformation of the church	Art McPhee

Transformation in the borderlands: A study of Matthew 15:21–28	Daniel S. Schipani
“Finish then thy new creation”: A metamorphosis of glory	Molly T. Marshall
Changed from glory into glory	Rebecca Slough
God brings us out to a spacious place: The transforming role of praise and confession in worship	Marlene Kropf
Preaching as agent of change	June Alliman Yoder
Spiritual direction: Space for transformation	Brenda Sawatzky Paetkau
The transforming power of grief: A widow’s story	Rachel Nafziger Hartzler
Improbable? Transformation and the congregation: A review of some resources	Erick Sawatzky
Crossing cultures, transforming lives	Keith Graber Miller

Spring 2001 (2.1) Communion

Editorial	Gordon Zerbe
The Lord’s Supper in Mennonite tradition	John D. Rempel
Communion as storytime	Eleanor Kreider
Eucharistic theology: Some untapped resources	Thomas Finger
In search of something more: A sacramental approach to life and worship	Arthur Paul Boers
A vision of global communion	Mesach Krisetya
The great feast	Sue C. Steiner
Pass-over, morsel, or the real meal deal: Seeking a place at the table for the church’s children	Eleanor Snyder
Children and the Jesus Supper: Some anecdotal and theological reflections	Gordon Zerbe

Fall 2000 (1.1) Spirituality

Editorial	Mary Schertz and Gordon Zerbe
Seeking the headwaters of Mennonite spirituality	Nelson Kraybill
A discriminating spirituality	Gerald Gerbrandt
A spirituality shaped by the Psalter	Perry B. Yoder
Facile spirituality, profound love of God	Harry Huebner
Spirituality according to Oprah	June Mears Driedger
Christian spirituality: Following the way of Jesus	April Yamasaki
Anastatic Anabaptists: Made alive and empowered to preach peace	Tom Yoder Neufeld
What is healthy congregational spirituality? A guide to resources	Marlene Kropf
For the reading table: Reclaiming ancient Christianity	Arthur Paul Boers
Review and discussion: Recent studies on Anabaptist spirituality	John J. Friesen